

PROBE TO END ON SLUSH FUND G. O. P. CHARGES

Committee Ends Sessions In Chicago Saturday.

TO MEET IN EAST
Senator Declares Democrats Have Failed To Prove Charges.

Chicago, Sept. 11.—The senate committee's inquiry here into the charges of Governor Cox that the Republicans were seeking to corrupt the electorate by soliciting $15,000,000 will be completed today by an investigation of the Republican campaign to raise funds in Chicago.

The committee plans to meet again Sept. 22 in some eastern city, to be selected by Chairman Kenyon. The Democratic members want to go to New York and pursue the investigation of the Cox charges there, while the Republicans favor removing to Pittsburgh to look into reports that the liquor interests are taking an active part in the Democratic nomination's campaign.

The widely divergent views of the committee members as to the results of the hearing here was shown when Senator Edge, Republican, New Jersey, issued a formal statement, asserting the Democrats had failed to substantiate Governor Cox's charges, and Senator Reed, Democrat, Missouri, asserted that any expression of opinion at this time "is indecent."

The day's testimony showed that the practice of Republican state workers of boosting the quotas assigned them by the national committee was general in many states. "A quota," Charles Mavity, former director of the West Virginia campaign, explained, "is a target at which we shoot, but we don't expect to hit it." Mavity and other witnesses told how they sometimes doubted the figures assigned them to raise. They testified that Governor Cox's figures of quotas in many cities were correct, but that these figures were those they personally had set, and not those supplied by Fred W. Upham, national treasurer.

Upham and Moore Recalled.
Mr. Upham, recalled to the stand, said he took full responsibility for the defect plan outlined in "Form 161" to set aside Chairman Will H. Hays' limit of $1000 on contributions and substitute a limit of $10,000. The national ways and means committee, however, vetoed the proposal, he said. He again declared that the Republican fund will be $4,879,000. This is the maximum, he said.

Mr. Upham defended the work of Harry M. Blair and other former Y. M. C. A. secretaries, who are his assistants.

E. H. Moore, Governor Cox's personal representative, was recalled to the stand and asked concerning reports that liquor interests in Ohio had supported the Democratic nominee in the gubernatorial campaign four years ago, and charges that the New Jersey liquor dealers were raising funds to assist the Democratic candidate this year. Mr. Moore denied any knowledge of the charges and said the use of his name in a prospectus of the Association Opposed to National Prohibition was unauthorized. "The fact that I am known as a strong anti-prohibitionist is of no more significance than the fact that George White, chairman of the Democratic national committee, advocated and voted for prohibition when in congress," Mr. Moore said.

More characterized the Anti-Saloon league as a Republican organization and said Wayne B. Wheeler, its general counsel, and other leaders were Republicans.

URGES CONVENTION OF NEGRO DELEGATES TO FIND PEACE

Elimination Of Things That Involve Color Line Urged.

Columbus, O., Sept. 11.—"There is something peculiar about this race of ours with respect to trouble," declared Dr. L. L. Campbell of Texas, addressing delegates attending the convention of the Negro National Baptist Association.

"The white man has financial trouble, or has family troubles. When you hear the outcome, he has committed suicide. The black man, when money gives out, food and clothing are no more, in the midst of his poverty when his wife has skipped out, saying: 'Give me that old time religion.'"

"Instead of worrying over the color line, let us find those things that draw no color line and make the best use of them for ourselves and for our neighbors."

"A race that has reduced its illiteracy from 90 to 10 percent in the past few years is entitled to be reckoned with."

"The black man has had a little grace. But they are not cussing us now, they are praising us."

TENNIS CHAMPION

Johnston of California, for the national tennis championship. Tilden, who won the world championship title at Wimbledon, England this summer, is now the undisputed king of the tennis court. Johnston was the title holder up to the time of his defeat.

LONG STRUGGLE FOLLOWS U. S. STRIKE STAND

Government Will Not Yield To Demand Of Miners.

100,000 ARE IDLE

Loss In Coal Production Nearly Three Million Tons.

ANTHRACITE COAL STRIKE SITUATION

Miners idle on 15th day of strike 100,000.
Loss in wages to miners under new wage award $9,000,000.
Loss to coal operators more than $3,000,000.
Loss in coal production 2,800,000 tons.

Washington, Sept. 11.—"Unwilling to yield one iota," to the anthracite miners strike, the government is prepared to enter into a long struggle to break the strike.

The president had flatly stated that he will not yield and officials are confident that this statement will have its effect upon the strikers within a few days and the men will return to their work.

MACSWINEY WEAKER AS HUNGER STRIKE OF 30 DAYS GOES ON

Shows No Signs Of Changing Mind As Death Nears.

London, Sept. 11.—Terrence MacSwiney, Lord Mayor of Cork, who has been on a hunger strike for 30 days again spent a restless night in the infirmary of Brixton jail. He slept fitfully and was very weak. MacSwiney's iron will to defy the British government to death shows no sign of weakening. He made it known to his wife that he would die rather than make any promise to the government that would gain his release.

Warnings were posted at Brixton jail today imposing a penalty upon any warden who informed outsiders in the event of MacSwiney's death. The government plans to hold up the news until it is officially announced by the home office.

STAGE FINAL ROUND IN GOLF TOURNEY

Roslyn, L. I., Sept. 11.—Frances Ouimet and Chick Evans, America's greatest rivals met today in the final round for the amateur golf championship. They worked their way through a field of 230 players to reach the final round.

It was the second time Ouimet and Evans had met in the national championship. Ouimet beating Evans one up on the 36th green in the second round of the national tournament last year. The westerners who back Evans were not satisfied that that match was decisive and have waited a year for another chance at the Boston golfer.

GERMANY FACES BLACK WINTER; FOOD LACKING

Four and One Half Million Workmen Are Idle.

LABOR UNREST SEEN
Government Takes Hand To Relieve Unemployed In Country.

Berlin, Sept. 11.—With 4,500,000 of her workmen idle Germany faces a black winter. Last winter the country was menaced by political riots; the nation is threatened during the coming winter with food and labor disturbances. The chief danger comes from unemployment and the empty dinner pail.

Only the railroaders and coal miners are working full capacity. Idleness in other branches of industry is increasing daily with the companies laying off large numbers of men.

The minister of labor announced today that 50,000,000 marks will be appropriated to assist the unemployed. This is in addition to 13,000,000 marks already spent for that purpose.

A law is being drafted to enable government commissions to operate idle factories where it is possible to do so.

The government is planning to engage as many as possible of the unemployed in useful work during the cold weather months but warning has been issued that no unnecessary places will be filled.

"While the situation looks black and there is a great deal of pessimism some of the members of the government are optimistic. They point out that:

1.—The September quota of coal for France, pledged under the Spa agreement is now assured.

2.—The Russian retreat from the Prussian border relieves the danger of an immediate bolshevist uprising in Germany.

3.—The quarrels of the radical leaders are splitting up the independent Socialist party and postponing the dangers of a counter revolution.

4.—The miners are working over time.

For the most part bankers and manufacturers are pessimistic and they see little hope. In fact they expect conditions to steadily grow worse.

DEMAND REMOVAL OF RESTRICTIONS ON POLICE OF TOLEDO

Anti-Saloon League Head Makes Reply To Director.

Toledo, O., Sept. 11.—Removal of restrictions from the police department, so that "the cesspool of crime and vice in Toledo will be cleared up" to the satisfaction of the public was demanded today in a statement by B. A. Schreiber, local Anti-Saloon League head. The statement was a hot reply to the offer of Chris Wall, safety director, to make Schreiber a policeman for the purpose of controlling the vice situation.

Schreiber declined to accept Wall's proposition.

"Both Mayor Schreiber and Director Wall are insincere," Schreiber declared. "The mayor, after his usual style of camouflage and playing to the gallery, says 'bring on your evidence.'"

"If the mayor will read the files of Toledo newspapers for the last year he will discover a trail of crime that is a disgrace to any community. Let the mayor take the halters off the police force and the policemen will produce all the evidence he needs."

STREET CAR LINES ARE CONSOLIDATED

Dayton, O., Sept. 11.—City officials met today for discussion of the proposed consolidation of the five city car lines, which went under a 7 cent fare a few weeks ago. During the strike several months ago, the city allowed the increased rate with the understanding that all lines were to go under one head. The companies have done nothing on the matter and a question of wage of employees is now up to a commission of three named several weeks ago. The plan of consolidation calls for the abandonment of some tracks and the placing of same on street not now used.

CROSSER SUIT DISMISSED
Cleveland, Sept. 11.—The county appellate court dismissed the mandamus suit of former Congressman Robert Crosser to force the board of elections to rescind its final count giving the Democratic congressional nomination in the Twenty-first Ohio District to John J. Babka by one vote.

PEASANTS FORM REPUBLIC
Harbin, Manchuria, Sept. 11.—Advices from West Siberia today announce the formation of a peasant republic in the Altai region, with a war council composed of the military chiefs and three civilians.

CHILDREN BORN IN DIFFERENT STATES

Frank Gibler and his children. The family of Frank Gibler, vice consul from the United States to Great Britain, hold what is believed to be a record. Each of his four kiddies was born in a different state. Frank, aged six, was born in Missouri; Deborah, aged four, in Texas; Dorothy, aged two and one-half, in Maryland, and Gordon, aged fifteen months, in New York city. The father of this quartet was born in Kentucky.

FOOD PRICES IN COLUMBUS RESTAURANTS TO BE PROBED

Alleged Profits Exceeding 1,000 Per Cent Have Been Made On Some Articles Sold In Eating Places.

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 11.—Food prices charged in Columbus hotels and restaurants are to be probed by Assistant U. S. District Attorney Ford.

This promise was made by Attorney Ford after receiving a communication from Dr. Bartilson, Columbus, alleging that exorbitant prices are being asked.

Dr. Bartilson, a few days ago, resigned as member of the Franklin County Fair Price Commission, as a protest against the commission authorizing a one cent boost per quart in local milk prices.

He claimed Columbus restaurant men are charging profits exceeding 1,000 per cent on some articles. At prices charged by restaurants, potatoes sell at nearly $24 a bushel which are selling on market at $2 according to Dr. Bartilson. Sweet corn, costing 20 cents a dozen is sold by restaurant men at the rate of $1.20 a dozen, he said, and tomatoes which retail on market at $3 per bushel sell at $40.

As evidence tending to support his accusations, Dr. Bartilson submitted food purchased at a high street hotel and two high street restaurants as follows:
Four slices tomatoes, 35 cents; two boiled potatoes, 20 cents; dish string beans, 30 cents; two ears corn 25 cents; four slices cucumber, 10 cents; about one fourth pound mashed potatoes 10 cents; order cottage cheese 7 cents; half pint milk 8 cents.

The hotel and restaurant proprietors said they welcome a probe. The hotel manager said his restaurant operated at a loss for the accommodation of hotel patrons. The restaurant proprietors insisted their prices are not excessive. They said the original cost of food is less than 50 per cent of the cost of operating restaurants. More than 50 percent of the cost is overhead expense they said.

FARM HAND DEAD IN GUN BATTLE WITH AUTHORITIES

Fight Over Cards Results In Casualty Near Elyria.

Elyria, Ohio, Sept. 11.—George Kochis, 50, a farm hand, is dead following a running battle with Sheriff M. D. Backus and Chief Deputy F. F. Cowie's Kochis, said to have been crazed by drink, fired several shots after he had been wounded, and then fought with the two officers, dislocating their right wrists.

The trouble started early this morning in a roadside run by two women near here. Kochis had been playing cards and losing. He went after a shotgun and fired at the others in the place, the bullet grazing the arm of James Farrell, of Cleveland. He continued to fire at those present, numbered among whom were five women.

When the sheriff and his deputies arrived Kochis was still keeping up a barrage with his weapon. He escaped from the house through a rear door followed by the officers. Backus dropped him with a bullet through his right leg, but Kochis struggled to his feet again and reached for his gun. Another bullet struck him in the right side.

Although fatally wounded, he struggled to his feet again and in a hand to hand encounter with Backus and Cowie, dislocated the right wrist of both before he was subdued. He died on his way to the hospital.

SUFFRAGE ASSOCIATION.

WILSON POLICIES ARE ATTACHED BY HARDING ALONG TWO FRONTS

Charges Administration Has Its Hand On Throat Of American Business In Speech To Business Men.

AMERICA DECEIVED ABOUT MONROE DOCTRINE

Senator Declares English Text Of Article 22 Declares One Thing While the French Another On Matter.

Marion, O., Sept. 11.—Senator Warren G. Harding launched attacks on the Wilson administration along two fronts today.

Addressing a delegation of nearly 500 Chicago and Indianapolis business men from his front porch this morning, he charged that a "bungling administration which could not even run its own business" has "put its hands on the throat of American business" and all but trampled it with "weird economic theories and 'socialistic' tendencies." He pledged if elected, to let business alone and run the government on a business-like basis.

In a later speech to a delegation of North Indiana and Michigan Republicans, Senator Harding asserted that America has narrowly escaped losing her Monroe doctrine "or going to war to preserve it."

He said that America was being deceived about the Monroe doctrine article of the League of Nations covenant. "The covenant," he explained, is written in both English and French in parallel columns. Article XXII dealing with the doctrine, Senator Harding declared that the English text said one thing and the French the other. The French version, he asserted does not guarantee the integrity of the Monroe doctrine, and "in case of controversy would subordinate almost to the point of complete abandonment."

Senator Harding combined two addresses into a "message to the business men of America," and compared the entrance into the League of Nations with the signing of a business contract.

"We are the great business nation of the world," he said. "We shall be able to save that business by a fair measure of common sense and we must do it."

"American business is not big business. The big business of America is the little business of America."

"Sixty percent of our manufacturers are little plants. Only 25 percent of them do business as corporations. When we come to analyze what we mean by American business we find that we mean the daily work of the nation."

"The government has engaged in prodigal waste. It has engaged in all kinds of costly bugging experiments of government management and ownership of enterprises. The American people pay."

"Democracy has done nothing in eight years to cure waste and inefficiency; it has rather added to them. We are the ineffective prodigals of the world."

Turning to the Monroe Doctrine and the League of Nations, Senator Harding said that the original draft of the covenant made no mention of the doctrine. When President Wilson returned from Paris on his first trip, Senator Harding declared he found America very strongly reversed the doctrine.

"So when the president returned to Paris," said Senator Harding, "he made or pretended to make a concession to the reverence of the American people in connection with Article XXI." In the English text the exact words are as follows:

"Nothing in this covenant shall be deemed to affect the validity of international engagements, such as treaties of arbitration or regional understandings like the Monroe Doctrine, for securing the maintenance of peace."

Senator Harding then quoted the French text in French, the translation of which, he said, is:

"International engagements such as treaties of arbitration and regional understandings like the Monroe Doctrine, which assure the maintenance of peace are not considered as incompatible with any of the provisions of the present pact."

"No one can fail to perceive," he continued "that one text is the complete reversal of the other."

SEARCH FOR GIRL MADE IN AIRPLANE ON ATLANTIC COAST

No Trace Of Seventeen Year Old School Girl Found.

South Sudbury, Mass., Sept. 11.—Search of the waters off Cape Ann for Miss Louise Fletcher, 17 year old Indianapolis heiress, was made by an International News correspondent today by airplane.

After cutting off her hair and donning boy's attire, Miss Fletcher was last seen according to neighbors and the police, in a dory off Rocky Neck. Since the girl so strangely disappeared shortly after noon Thursday, a heavy northeast wind prevailed. Today the rain stopped and the dense fog lifted, permitting for the first time a search of the waters by air observation. All the hydro-airplanes in this district were either out of commission or unavailable for the quest today and the correspondent was forced to resort to the more hazardous task of flying over the water in a land plane.

Piloted by Captain Fred M. Stieber, a war veteran aviator, the airplane carrying the correspondent went up shortly after 8 a. m. today from the flying field here which is situated short distance from the "Wayside Inn" made famous by Longfellow.

The pilot planned to fly low over the waters of Gloucester harbor and Massachusetts Bay; then to point his machine southward standing an altitude which would permit a view of the ocean 20 miles to seaward. The altitude would make possible an air slide to land in case anything went wrong with the air plane's motor.

The plane was to proceed up the New England coast as far north as Portsmouth, N. H.

FARM AND CITY PROPERTY IS SOLD THROUGH AUCTION

Farmland Cedarville property belonging to the estate of the late Mrs. Nancy Winter of Cedarville, was sold by the executors Andrew Winter and C. E. Nisbet at public auction at the court house Saturday.

The farm of 156 acres on the Columbus pike and joining the west corporation line of Cedarville, was sold to A. H. Creswell for $174 an acre, much lower than the appraised value. The homestead in Cedarville was bid in by Charles Turnbull for $3,001, which was $1 higher than the appraisement. A cottage in Cedarville, appraised at $3,000 was bought for $2,400 by James McMillan.

The farm property was offered in three tracts and as a whole. Sold as a whole it brought a better price than that offered for it in separate tracts.

The appraisement of the first tract of 50 acres, with all the farm buildings was $325 an acre. The second tract of 80 acres was appraised at $210 an acre, and the third tract, comprising 26 acres at $250 an acre.

SEES JOBS FOR ALL

Labor Statistician Says There Will Be Little Idleness This Winter.

Washington, Sept. 11.—John B. Denmore, director of the labor employment service, states there will be jobs for all this winter. Basing his statements on reports of 320 field agents, Denmore said the coming winter "will be one of the best in years as regards opportunities for employment, with the exception of the war years, when there was an absolutely general shortage of labor."

Denmore's statement was made in face of reports to the federal reserve board that unemployment was "particularly severe" in the Cleveland district, where 12,000 Akron workers were out of jobs and that in the Maine canning district 15,000 were unemployed.

Reports to the American Federation of Labor, according to Secretary Frank Morrison, show unemployment in the garment and textile trade and in some sections of the building trades.

Denmore's reports show that factories which shut down during the summer, throwing many thousands out of work, were gradually resuming operation.

TAKE 3,300 PRISONERS

Polish Armies Deliver a Series of Successful Attacks.

Warsaw, Sept. 11.—The Polish armies on the northeastern front delivered a series of successful attacks upon the Russians and took 3,300 prisoners, four guns and two armored trains.

Russian Bolshevik forces are being concentrated to make a desperate effort to recapture Kokova, an important town on the south side of the Dnieper river, 45 miles above Kherson, before the fall rains deepen the mud and make a campaign impossible.

Decision relative to the military situation, Lithuania and peace terms to be insisted upon by Poland at the conference with soviet Russia at Riga was reached at a session of the council of defense, but the soviet refuses to give any details relative to them.

WITH THE WOMEN OF TODAY

By Edith Moriarty

There have been many stories of women carrying their husbands' business, or even law practice or medical practice and now we come to the woman who carries on her husband's political ideas. She is Mrs. John Gordon Battelle of Columbus, Ohio. Mrs. Battelle is giving unstintingly of her time and means in the present campaign.

John Gordon Battelle was one of the foremost progressive Republicans in his district. He was always working for a better, broader interpretation of his party's platform. Since his death his wife has been trying to carry on his ideas. Just recently she was selected as the first woman for membership on the Ohio campaign committee of the Republican party. She will act with six men and one other woman, Mrs. Alice Roosevelt Longworth.

Mrs. Battelle has long been active in benevolent and social lines of public endeavor. For the Republican National Ways and Means Committee, Mrs. Battelle is serving as state vice-chairman. She is president of the Women's Republican Club of Ohio, vice president of the Harding-for-President Women's Club, member of the Board of Trustees of the Columbus Public Library.

HERE AND THERE
For the last sixty-seven years Miss Miranda Steele, 84 years old, has been employed in the same mill in Claremont, N. H. The women of Pitcairn island are not only graceful, but noted for their vigor. It is a common sight to see the young women of the island go up and down the steep, rocky shores, carrying barrels of water or other heavy burdens on their shoulders, apparently with as much ease as the young men do.

St. Louis has a savings bank for the exclusive use of working girls.

The Countess of Limerick, prominent in fashionable society, has opened an antique shop in London and purposes to donate all the profits from her venture to various Irish charities.

One week after she assumed office as sheriff of Stephens county, Oklahoma, Mrs. William Cates seized three whisky stills.

Statistics show that more women than men live to be 100 years old. The Countess of Warwick, a member of Great Britain's social set, is conducting a gardening school at the beautiful and historic Warwick castle.

Probably without a parallel in the shoemaking industry is the record of service of Mrs. Lydia A. Varney, who for 56 years has been a shoe worker in Brockton, Mass.

He came to New York and the many sided city life fascinated him to the day of his death. He tramped the streets hunting romance in out-of-the-way places. He never failed to find it. All his experiences of his life furnished material for his short stories. He died in a New York hospital in 1910, humorous and cheerful to the last minute of his life.

Is It Yours

O. HENRY

September 11 1862

O. Henry, or William Sydney Porter, one of the best known modern short story writers was born in Greensboro, North Carolina in 1862. His parents died when he was young. His mother had been a sweet old-fashioned lady and his father a good natured man who wasted much time over futile inventions. The boy was brought up by a aunt known as Miss Lina who figured in many of his later stories.

O. Henry went to Texas when he was about 20 and worked on a ranch. He carried a dictionary with him and read while herding sheep. When he was 25 he eloped in a most romantic fashion with a 17 year old girl. He was working in a bank in Austin and later went to Houston to do newspaper work. While there he was unjustly accused of taking the bank funds.

When going from Houston for the trial something led him to run away. He fell in with the notorious Al Jennings and with him traveled around South America. He came back when he found his wife dying man.

CLEVELAND GIRL JUMPS IN RIVER

Dayton, O., Sept. 11.—"Why didn't you let me go?" asked a pretty, 18 year-old girl of Patrolman J. C. Mercer late last night after he plunged into the Miami near Van Cleave park and dragged her from the water into which she jump after removing her coat and hat. She had gone down one away. He fell in with the notorious time. At Miami Valley hospital she refused to give her name but says she was brought here yesterday by a back when he found his wife dying man.

At a meeting of a committee of citizens held on last Thursday evening it was decided to hold a public meeting in the Xenia opera house on Monday evening, September 13, at 8 o'clock, for the purpose of discussing and getting at the truth of the charges preferred against three commissioners, Messrs. C. S. Frazer, J. Thorb Charters and Arthur Whalen, for the purpose of their recall as City Commissioners of Xenia.

This meeting is intended solely to give the citizens and taxpayers of Xenia a full understanding of the questions in issue and to determine whether or not those circulating the petition are justified in having sufficient grounds for their action. Both those favoring and opposed to the procedure are urged to be present for the purpose of giving the public such facts as will throw light on the different questions, and the citizens of Xenia, both men and women are cordially invited to be present and hear the discussion, that they may be in a position to decide for themselves as to the merits of the case.

HERBERT HOOVER SAYS THE TREATY REFERENDUM IS A FAILURE.

We are satisfied that at least half the people of this country look upon HERBERT HOOVER AS ONE OF THE GREATEST MEN OF THE NATION. We noticed, a short time ago, that he visited Marion, Ohio, and that Senator Harding entertained him. We remember that at the time this thought came to our mind: "Good—hope when Harding becomes President he will have Herbert Hoover in his cabinet as Secretary of State."

Mr. Hoover has just made public his views on the leading question of the day—the acceptance or rejection of the German treaty—and this being of such vital importance, we take the liberty of using it in our column, as better than anything else we could give today, as follows:

"The great and solemn referendum on the league or no league of our Democratic friends has failed to materialize, (has failed of endorsement by public opinion,) and the issue itself has become a question of 'a' league or 'the' league. Senator Harding's speech on August 28, his interview in the New York Times September 6 and Mr. Wickham's interview with the senator on the same date all point his statesmanlike outlook the direction of procedure through negotiation with the principal governments for the revision of the covenant, and thus the avoidance of a separate treaty."

"They mark his declination to be associated with narrow partisanship, and his willingness to preserve an open mind and to embrace the good parts of the league and The Hague tribunal distinctly advances the issue into the area of a referendum on 'the' league, except Article X and other changes indicated in the reservations."

"The treaty, with its annexes, comprises a total of nearly 500 articles of which some twenty-seven comprise the league covenant. Only eight or ten have been under criticism and the great bulk of such criticism is directed alone to Article X. Entirely aside from the covenant articles, the remainder are not only the basis of European stability, but are of great political and economic importance to the United States in the establishment of our treaty rights with new countries, in the protection of minority populations, the regulation of questions as to alien property in our country, of American property in Germany, of our rights to German ships, our rights to equality of trade and commerce with other signatories under the reparation conditions, support of the American army since the armistice, damages to American citizens, our veto rights in the actions of the Reparations Commission in its powers over German trade and commerce and other questions."

"Many of these matters could not be settled by a separate treaty with Germany even if we desired it, for Germany has surrendered her power of contract in many items to the other signatories of the treaty. Aside from a few articles touched by the reservations, I have heard no suggestion that these articles should be drafted otherwise than as they appear in the treaty. It is not likely that any foreign policy would ask the world risk its stability by reopening the whole treaty in order to re-enact the great bulk of unobjectionable articles."

"As to the covenant of the League; the actual organization of the League is a going concern that has gained in membership some ten nations during the last sixty days, to a total of thirty-nine nations, representing nearly 75 per cent of the population of the globe, with a number of new nations applying for admission. And aside from the powers it may exert in the prevention of war (which are the matters mainly in dispute with us) it is indeed, as Senator Harding suggests intertwined with the actual stability and government of Europe."

"The League is in direct control of the governments of Danzig, Constantinople, the Saar basin and other places. It has the title to mandates to former German territory, and many other functions of practical statesmanship in compromise settlements of European questions, the reopening of which are dangerous to peace. None of these questions, however, materially relate to those articles of the League to which the Republican party properly objects as constituting an actual or possible military alliance and so forth."

Aside from its European intertwining, the League is also intertwined with us, even if we refuse to enter it. It might be, if we refused to enter it in some form, that we would find ourselves in the ridiculous position of having to sign a treaty with the League officials themselves, in order to establish the rights of American citizens to trade in these League-governed areas. It is by the covenant that we secure an equality of trade and other economic opportunity in the mandate areas equal to the mandates, and this provision becomes of prime importance to us in the protection of our oil and fertilizer supplies."

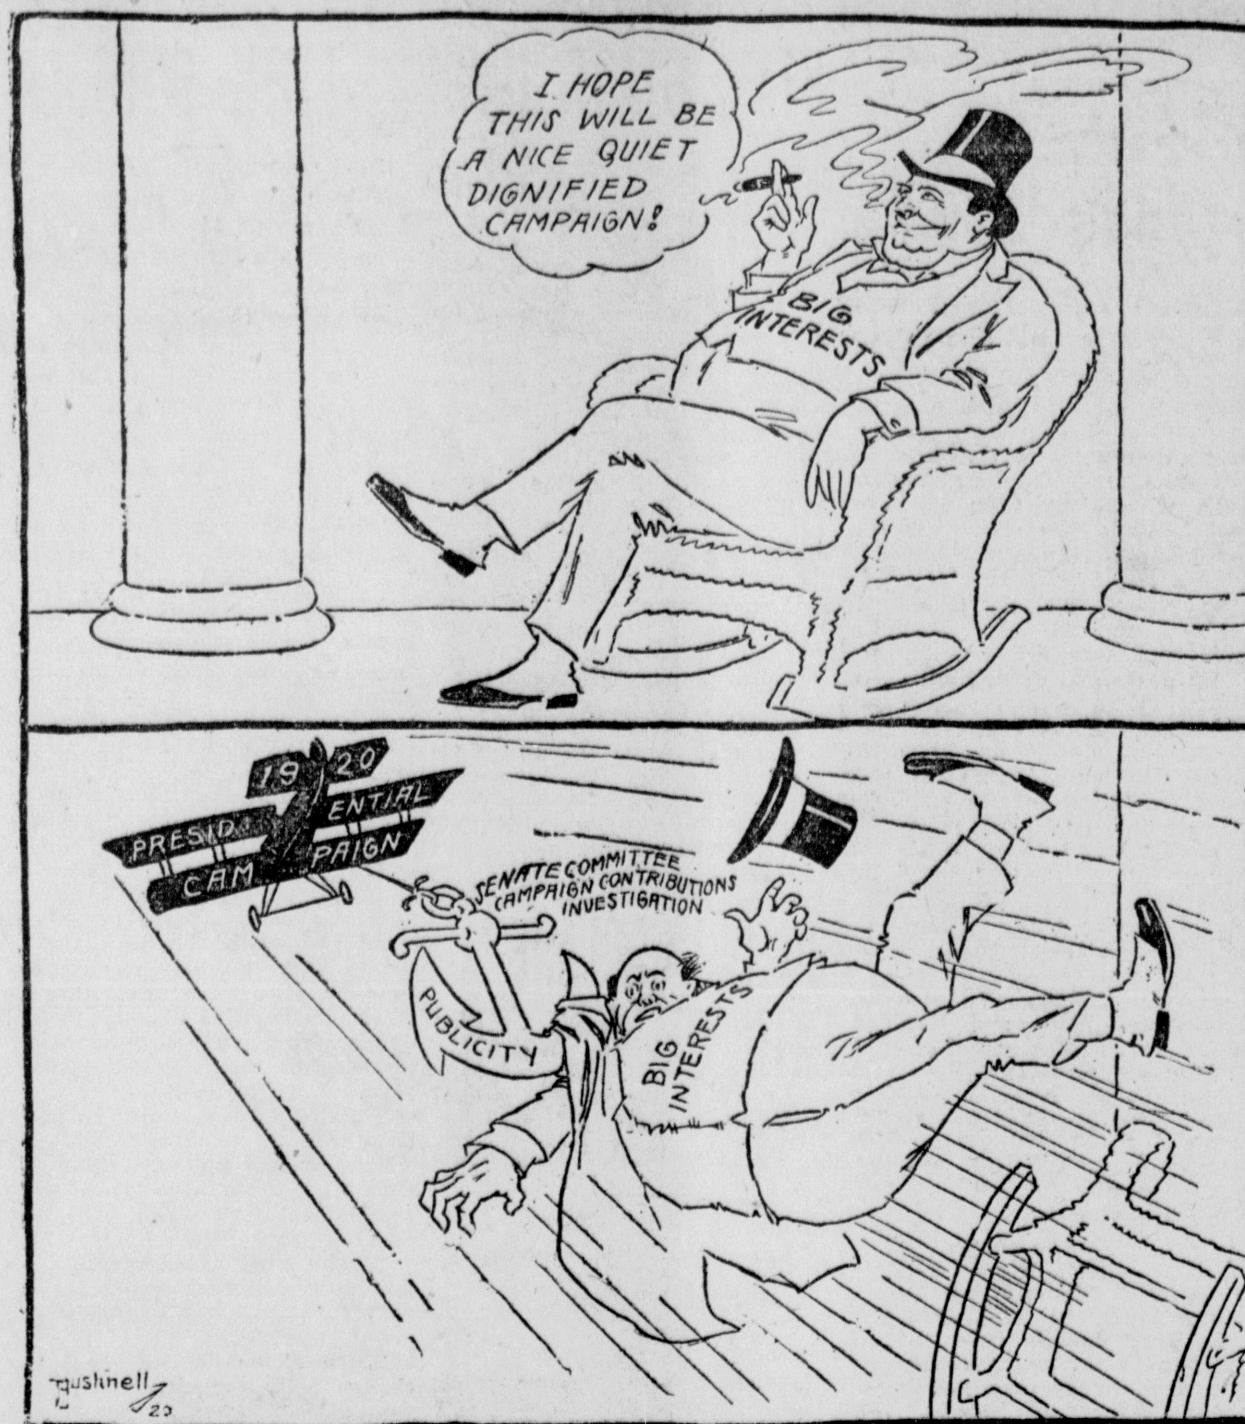

"Again, many international bureaus of many years standing will in course of time be transferred to the league. Under the league covenant the Hague tribunal will in effect be replaced by a great international court, probably within another month or two. This court is now in process of erection, largely through the efforts of Senator Root, and is, with his approval, dependent upon the league for the selection of its judges and the establishment of its powers and procedure."

"Other points of 'intertwining' could be enumerated. What is of the most importance is that many of the articles of the league are 'good' articles, such as disarmament, arbitration and international health, and would naturally be adopted in any selection of constructive procedure. The early development of the Hague tribunal into a real court as one of the greatest branches of action to prevent war has at all times been welcomed by the Republican party."

"With the stability of Europe depending upon holding the treaty itself, with the going league intertwined in this treaty, with it intertwined in American interests and with the great bulk of provisions of the treaty and of the league not under discussion, the course of practical statesmanship would, in common sense, lead to the direct procedure by amendment to bring into alignment with the American feeling. I am confident that the changes which are under discussion are such that they would be gladly accepted by the principal powers. Furthermore, there is a growing recognition abroad, as in the United States, that such alteration is necessary in order to make the league using moral and economic pressures rather than the uncertain obligations and possibilities of military action under Article X, together with some other secondary questions."

"The penalty to be paid for amendment as against reservation is that of delay, but the prime responsibility for delay, not of a few months after March 4, but for eighteen months before that time, lies at the door of the Democratic party in its refusal to meet the position taken by the mild reservationists of the Senate. As Mr. Taft has pointed out, the Democratic program of inclusion of Article X in the league, with its burden of just and unjust suspicion, can never materialize against public sentiment and the opposition of the Republican Senate, even did the Democratic party win the election. Furthermore, the new broom so much needed in administrative and economic reorganization would have been lost in such an event."

A POLITICAL MOVIE—IN TWO REELS

THE SKUNK.

Each night around my seaside dwelling there roams a skunk; at break of day the whole charmed neighborhood is smelling of Jockey Club or New Mown Hay. I know not why this midnight vagrant should always to my cottage steer; I only know he renders fragrant a hundred leagues of atmosphere. I would not in this way be haunted, were it a lion or a bear; for I'm of courage, high, undaunted, and I would shoo it to its lair. Oh, bring your fierce man eating tiger, and I'll face, and never quail, and chase it to its native Niger, and tie a tin can to its tail. I'll meet in any man's arena the fiercest brutes the world can dig, the wardog and the rude hyena, the polar bear and guinea pig. No man can say I am a quitter, but all my courage seems like wind, when comes that aromatic critter, with incense from the storied Ind. Which shows, my friends, that circumstances will alter cases, now and then; and when some sort of doom advances, the gift fails in the bravest men. Call me not craven if I tremble, say not that all my boasts are bunk; my inward fears I can't dissemble, I will not try to kill the skunk.

SPECIAL ELECTION WILL BE NECESSARY TO PRESENT RECALL

That owing to the time required it will be impossible to hold the recall election of Commissioners Charters, Frazier and Whalen at the time of the regular election in November, even if the petitions have the required 25 per cent by Saturday, is the interpretation of the City Charter, given by Attorney M. J. Hartley, one of the Charter framers.

The translation given the charter shows that even if the first 25 per cent of signers is secured by Saturday, as it is stated by backers of the movement it would be, it would require 70 days from that time to hold the recall election.

When the petitions in circulation have the required signature of 25 per cent of the electors of the city voting at the last general election, they are filed with the city auditor, who notifies the three commissioners whose recall is asked. These commissioners then have five days in which to file their defensive statement. Copies of this defensive statement and of the original petition without the signature are then placed, one in the engine house and one in the office of the City Auditor.

Such copies shall remain on file in the places designated for a period of thirty days, during which time they may be signed by any elector of the city in person, and not by agent or attorney. These petitions are then taken down by the city auditor and he is allowed five more days in which to determine whether the number of signers equals 25 per cent, and then file the notice with the board of elections for a special election. Thirty days' notice is required to call the election, thus making 70 days from the time the original petitions are taken in the auditor's office.

If the first 25 percent of signers is secured by Saturday and the original petitions are filed then the special election could not be held until Nov. 21, sometime after the regular election, thus entailing the city the cost of a special election.

"I have no conception that the required number of signers will ever be secured," said Mr. Hartley, "and I have no conception of the election ever passing if it goes that far. I think it will be voted down, three to one, if it comes to a special election."

Asserts New Discovery Brings Blessed Relief to Hay Fever Sufferers

Can Make it Yourself at Home at Trifling Expense

In spite of all the doubters and scoffers, a man in Kentucky, who changed his annoying and distressing Hay Fever into less than a mild cold, claims most emphatically that if taken in time Hay Fever or Rose Fever can be conquered or at least made so harmless that it is not even bothersome.

He gave his discovery to scores of other sufferers with the most remarkable results and has recently been prevailed upon to dispense it through Pharmacists to all Hay and Rose Fever sufferers who still have faith that nature has provided an effective remedy for this common, yet miserable disease.

And best of all this remedy costs almost nothing. Get three-quarter ounce bottle of Mentholized Aroclene at any drug store, pour the contents into a pint bottle and fill the pint bottle with water that has been boiled.

Then gargle as directed and twice daily sniff or spray each nostril thoroughly.

That's all there is to it; so simple that a lot of people will say that it can't do the work, but oftentimes simple, natural remedies are the best; as you will find after using.

If you will make up a pint and use it for a week or ten days you need not be surprised if your unwelcome yearly visitor fails to appear.

Mentholized Aroclene is new in this market. It is possible that your druggist has not supplied himself, but he can get it for you from his jobber, who has a large supply.

THIS SEASON

This sale season bids fair to be the largest in the history of Public Sales

EVERYTHING THAT GOES INTO THE MAKING OF SUCCESSFUL SALES IS AT THE HAND OF THE FARMER OF TODAY, whether he is reducing his stock or selling out.

The past three or four very successful years have allowed farmers to accumulate money they have never before been able to save. They naturally become prospective buyers at the sales.

The enormous increase in the ownership of automobiles has provided a means of a crowd gathering, on short notice, rain or shine.

Less credit is asked today than ever before.

Publicity for a sale undertaking is at its height today. Interest in news of the great world war, I. W. W. doings, strikes, car shortage, and the many grave matters of the day have produced a SOLID READING PUBLIC, everyone reads the NEWSPAPER. The only way of gaining information of the day, is thru this medium.

The newspaper reader is an ADVERTISEMENT reader. HE HAS TO BE—to keep himself informed on the ever changing markets and prices of today, to ECONOMICALLY conduct his home and business affairs.

Ask Your Auctioneer

The more money he gets for YOU the more he gets for HIMSELF—consequently a well advertised sale has a larger crowd—ask the following men if it pays to ADVERTISE in the GAZETTE and REPUBLICAN.

a gigantic wheat marketing organization, as planned, they will gain control of elevators at every shipping point and distribute a large percentage of the total yield, stabilizing and increasing prices to the consumer. The National Board is highly ambitious and may exceed the present capacity of the farmers' co-operative movement. The adoption of some such plan as the ultimate solution of the marketing problem is more than probable. The present tendency is toward co-operation.

The meeting of stock raisers, railroad officials, bankers, and others called at the packers' invitation to discuss means of financing an increased production of livestock is important as an effort to fix attention and unite action upon this necessary task. The future of the livestock industry has been the subject of much comment and the production of livestock during the next few years has caused genuine concern to those most interested in the livestock industry. No one doubts that livestock production will continue. The nation must have meat. But the industry needs stabilizing. The grower and the public need protection from the wide fluctuations which reveal meat alternately as a drug upon the market and an article bid for so keenly that its price climbs beyond all reason. Farmers should have the assistance of all government and private agencies in regulating wisely the production of livestock. Much depends upon the price of corn and hay, which this year fortunately are in plentiful supply. Many factors complicate the livestock situation and require the most careful study. The packers' meeting, while not held under ideal auspices, perhaps, should mark a beginning of constructive action.

In the suit recommended against the International Harvester Co., an attack is made upon the prevailing high prices of farm implements, which have been such an aggravation to the farmer. The action announced profit-sharing plan. Apparently its profits were to be shared with labor rather than the consumer. Costs in the implement industry are high, but they are subject to the same deflationary influences that affect prices generally. A reduction in the price of implements and other farm necessities is with compensation for price deflation in the grain and livestock markets. The farmer entertains the feeling that if foodstuffs are to remain at their present level, or go lower, not merely manufactured articles like implements but the wages of all service must decline in harmony.

STOCKS
Nearly all market commentators lay emphasis upon the rails as certain to enjoy greater activity than any other large group of stocks during ensuing weeks. Present liquidation in the industrials may have discounted the greater part of readjustment to be expected this year, but any marked revival hinges upon the promise of increased earnings and these are not now anticipated. Until bank statements reveal definite improvement in the credit situation, the market will be subject to irregular swings.

The French loan is a test of the bond market and its outcome will determine the amount of future foreign offerings. Proximity of the usual fall trade revival is responsible for not a little bullish sentiment. Representative issues have been in scant supply at times.

GRAIN
The corn crop is, late and some hot weather would not come amiss during September. Frost danger gives reason for disquietude. Part of the crop will require a month to a month and a half to mature. Offerings of old corn will increase as the new crop nears maturity. Market experts are busy figuring how great a surplus America and other countries will have for export and how great Europe needs will be. The verdict is by no means unanimous. Bromhall forecasts a supply adequate to all requirements. Farmers are somewhat disposed to hold their wheat, especially in the southwest, where elevator men are demanding sharp discounts, owing to uncertain crop supply and other factors. Millers' stocks of wheat are light, according to reports, and rarely has flour trade been as slow as during August.

LIVESTOCK
Probabilities of a large percentage of soft corn this year will act potentially upon the stock market. Expensive corn has made feeding unprofitable of late and small raisers of livestock are extremely hesitant about loading up again. Western beef has been arriving in greater numbers this month. August receipts set a rock-bottom record. The bull element is active in the hog market at times, but find the general tone undecided and yielding.

METALS
Traffic conditions in the iron and steel industry are slowly improving, although many points are embargoed. If car supply accelerates, the mills may be able to work off existing accumulations before December. Current business is dull. The steel corporation adheres to its earlier price schedule in most particulars, notwithstanding higher freight rates. The scrap market has reached its peak, opinion holds. Copper sentiment is slightly better. Importations have depressed lead and zinc.

AGRICULTURE
Retail merchants have been awaiting the development of country trade, which is expected to be large this year due to the abundant crops and to the juvenile attitude of business. The farmer's buying power is the keystone of the arch of trade. Its immediate release is contingent upon the available supply of cars and upon prices. If the farmer is dissatisfied with prices and does out his grain, he will have less cash in hand to spend, although his aggregate returns may be greater than if he poured his crop upon the market. If he cannot get cars, when ready to ship, his purchasing power will be similarly restricted. Bankers are not anxious to finance the operation of withholding crops from market except where conditions make it desirable for both producers and consumer.

Through the National Board of Farm Organizations farmers are endeavoring to increase their net return from each bushel of wheat and other grains. If they succeed in projecting

GAME WITH URBANA
HINGES ON ACTION
ON SCHOOL OFFICIALS
Whether Coach Ward Young's Central High school football team will open the season with Urbana High at that place on September 18, now depends upon the success or failure of athletes at the Urbana school to reinstate football as a sport there.

Opposition to the game grew out of the death of Calvin Leathers, full back of the Urbana team of 1919 from injuries sustained when tackled in the first play of the opening seasonal game with Springfield High last fall. The boy's death caused the rest of the season to be abandoned and the rest of the games cancelled.

This year, it is understood there has been a determined effort made to reinstate the game as a part of
